THE BREAKTHROUGH GENERATION

I write in the persuasion that the fullest measure of true revival is primarily manifest in and through the young. In short, as akin as I am to the spirit of revival, I am convinced that the hope of that spirit's perpetuation in any movement is only in its younger generation.

Jesus and the twelve were young men...much younger than I, myself, am. They shook their world by reason of a divine dynamic. But it should not be overlooked that Jesus' disciples were also too young to have been inoculated with lethal doses of traditionalism which stifle faith, boldness and creativity.

I am 45 years old.

I am still excitable, but youth are more exciting. I am moved by a summons to bold belief, but youth believe anything is possible. I am far from dead, but youth are vibrantly alive. I am too wise to overlook limitations, but youth tend to believe there are none. Youth need to be exhorted to wisdom, but the more mature are often dulled in the supposition that they possess it.

I weary over the trite saying, "Our only hope for tomorrow is the youth of today." Clichéd phrases pandering to sentimentalism do not address the issue. The obvious is clear: without a new generation there will be none to become the next. But what kind of generation? That is the question. And how we contribute to its answer determines if that generation shall "break-through" the ennui and mediocrity of their world to bring life and health at ever new dimensions.

I rise to partner with Joel's promise: "Your sons and your daughters shall prophesy." I stand in the faith that the Holy Spirit will beget a generation that sees the invisible and believes the impossible; that speaks imaginatively and that lives invincibly. I serve the Church with an eye upon its teens, its collegians, its young couples, its servant-spirited singles. I teach. I model. I live to pour my life into their lives.

I hold no cynicism concerning my own generation nor the one preceding me, but I believe our finest hours will be inherited by our children. To bequeath this heritage, I lead with authority. I will not concede to the idolatry of the youth-worship which indulges whims and fails to yoke them in discipleship. Nor will I heed the fool's call to kneel at the shrine of generation-gap-ism. I doubt the new generation can prepare for its grandeur tomorrows without my generation's part in their lives today. The fresh oil of anointing awaits them, and it is my privilege to point the way to that altar of commitment and quickening.

I am a pastor. I am a college president. I am a believer of the year 1980. But my expectation for the Church is wrapped up in the ones who shall breach the Third Millennium A.D. with the promise fulfilled in them: "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me...."

If you are among them, let me help you.

If you are of my generation, join me in doing that.

OPEN your Bible:

THE SURE WORD

by Reverend C. Marty Jenkins
Executive Vice President
Mount Vernon Bible College

In recent years there has been considerable discussion as to the reliability of Scripture. Words like "infallible" and "inerrant" have been tossed to and fro in Christian circles. Out of this debate there has arisen a fellowship committed solely to declaring the inerrancy of Scripture. The International Council on Biblical Inerrancy is becoming a strong and respected voice in evangelical circles. As a member of ICBI, I, too, am committed to the inerrancy of Scripture.

There is another issue surrounding the question of Scripture which also calls for serious consideration. The question itself is quite simple: "What shall we accept as the Word of God?" One obviously points to the Bible as God's authoritative Word and wonders about the relevancy of the question. I, too, wholeheartedly agree that the Bible is unquestionably the authoritative Word of God. The question is relevant, however, because, while we do not question the self-vindicating authority of Scripture, we are sometimes tempted to accept without question the authenticity of a word of prophecy, tongues and interpretation, or the apparent operation of one of the other gifts.

In I Corinthians 14:26-33, Paul clearly sets the precedent for us to judge the operation of the gifts. Church history is replete with examples of those who eventually fell into heresy by placing what appeared to be a manifestation of one of the gifts on equal authority with Scripture. Such an error inevitably leads to disaster. Please note that I am not suggesting that the operation of the gifts is not a valid means through which we receive a word from God. Quite the contrary. I thank God for the manifestations of the Spirit which speak vibrant truth directly to the point of our contemporary need.

The purpose of this discussion is to call attention to the differences between the objective authority of Scripture and the subjective authority of the gifts operating within our local assemblies.

God has providentially set before us an authentic and authoritative canon of Scripture. These Scriptures lead us unto salvation and maturity in Christ. This canon of Scripture is the objective Word of God. That is, at this point in history we are not called upon to judge their authenticity or authority. The Scriptures apply to us and forever judge us regardless of whether or not we accept their authority. God's written Word is absolute truth.

The operation of the gifts, on the other hand, represents the subjective Word of God. That is, we are responsible to judge what appears to be the operation of any gift to determine if God is actually speaking to us. When a brother or sister speaks a word to us, we are not to receive it as automatically authoritative. The uncritical acceptance of such has the potential of leading us astray. Any word spoken as the operation of one of the gifts must be judged by the written Word and the context into which it is spoken.

Many of the cults have fallen victim to placing what appeared to be a manifestation of the Spirit on the same level of authority as the Bible. Placing any such "word" on the same level as Scripture has the potential of leading one into confusion and eventually heresy. The seriousness of confusing the objective and the subjective Word of God is immediately obvious in some of the cults where the word of a man, who claimed to be speaking for God, is given equal authority with Scripture.

This discussion is not in any way intended to rob us of the edification received through the operation of the gifts. It is intended, however, to caution us to keep the operation of the gifts in proper perspective. If we are to be truly biblical in our approach to the gifts, we must be willing to accept the responsibility of judging their operation.

In our attempt to be biblical, if we were to inadvertently and wrongly judge an operation of one of the gifts, we would surely miss a blessing. On the other hand, if we were to wrongly judge Scripture, we would surely miss heaven! May God help us to be always open to what the Spirit is saying and, at the same time, be cautiously aware of the difference between the objective and the subjective Word of God. 4

What is happening at our Bible colleges? Where are they going? How are they preparing young people for ministry? All of our churches are affected by these colleges in one way or another. Our finest young people are trained in them and future leadership for our churches is developed within their walls. Therefore, we need to develop a keen interest in what happens in these Bible colleges. In order to share with you the direction and ministry of these schools, featured on the next two pages are our three Bible colleges—L.I.F.E. of Los Angeles, California, L.I.F.E. of Canada, and Mount Vernon Bible College of Mount Vernon, Ohio.

The three leaders of the above mentioned colleges share their comments through interviews conducted by the ADVANCE.

HOW IS MOUNT VERNON BIBLE COLLEGE PREPARING STUDENTS TO MEET THE NEEDS OF THE WORLD?

"At MVBC our primary purpose is to prepare men and women for ministry as a vocation through our four year B.A. program in Bible," states Reverend Marty Jenkins, Executive Vice President of MVBC. "We are also concerned about a secondary purpose of providing a setting where any believer, regardless of the vocation through which he chooses to express his ministry, may come for two years of general and Biblical education in preparation for Christian living. This secondary purpose is met by our A.A. program in Bible, which will begin in the fall of 1980. This two-fold purpose reflects our conviction that every believer needs to be equipped to meet the needs of the world regardless of his vocational choice.

"We acknowledge that, above all else, the world desperately needs to be confronted with the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. This confrontation must be more than one of words. If our words are to make a significant impact, they must be supported by a life-style consistent with our message. For this reason, MVBC is committed to a curriculum designed to prepare individuals to live a Christian life-style and to minister to others out of that life-style. It is our goal to prepare students to meet the needs of the world by teaching them to first submit themselves wholly to the Gospel of Christ and then to minister to the needs of others out of that wholeness."

HOW IS L.I.F.E. OF CANADA PREPARING STUDENTS TO MEET THE NEEDS OF THE WORLD?

Dr. Art Wolf, Dean of L.I.F.E. of Canada, shares, "To meet the needs of the world today, we need trained and prepared people. In the first place, to minister to the needs of people we feel a thorough knowledge of the Bible is essential. Therefore, in our curriculum we have courses designed to study the books of the Bible, where one can discover spiritual principles to meet the deep needs of the world. Secondly, we have Bible-related courses which deal with methods of teaching the truths of the Bible. Thirdly, we are offering special classes in ministry through a series entitled "Ministries for Today." This year we cover the Ministry of the Word to the needs of such groups as youth, family, senior citizens, and other special areas like home Bible studies. Fourthly, practical experience is gained by participation in local churches and outreach ministries of college teams."

HOW IS THE POTENTIAL OF TODAY'S YOUTH IN BUILDING GOD'S KINGDOM?

"I see that potential in terms of spiritual strategy and of personal ministry," shares Dr. Jack W. Hayford, President of L.I.F.E. of Los Angeles. He adds, "First, in an hour when a swelling wave of revival is sweeping around the world, the younger generation is the strategic one. I have said more about this in the editorial on Page 2, but I stoutly believe it is the "break-through generation". In short, I am convinced that the Holy Spirit sees the youth as the ones with whom He is "most likely to succeed".

"Second, in terms of ministry, a major reason for our cultivating a series of options in upper division study such as we have, reflects a new level of understanding in the whole church. More and more we are learning that God has created distinctiveness in everyone of us. We have always known that was true of fingerprints, physical attributes, etc., but the complete force of that truth is only beginning to penetrate our understanding concerning ministry potential in each individual.

"L.I.F.E. has developed ten distinct fields of study which enlarge upon a uniform foundation of preparation in the Word of God and sound doctrine. Here a student may select a basic thrust of study which correlates with his own sense of God's created purpose in him, and then fashion an active program of practical experience to complement and complete it according to his distinct goals."

Five Bible College Alumni Share in Retrospect

HOW DID THE CURRICULUM OF THE BIBLE COLLEGE YOU ATTENDED PREPARE YOU FOR MINISTRY?

Pastors of the Santa Monica, California Foursquare Church, Ron and Linda Norris, state, "When you consider reserving four years for a thorough study of God's Word, you realize that four years isn't much time. But because of something very precious started during those four years of education, we are now able to learn directly from the Lord and through others He places in our lives." Ron and Linda are 1974 graduates of L.I.F.E. at Los Angeles.

Tony Naska, 1979 graduate of MVBC, replies, "Basically, MVBC has prepared me for the ministry in two ways. First, the nature of the curriculum has helped me to become grounded in God's Word. The Bible courses were especially meaningful to me. The teaching in these courses comes straight from God's Word. It was the basic Bible principles that helped me to form a firm Christian foundation for the rest of my life. Secondly, the curriculum included various courses on church administration and organization. I feel that these courses played an important part in training me to be an effective leader in the local church."

HOW IMPORTANT WERE STUDENT RELATIONSHIPS AT COLLEGE TO YOUR PREPARATION?

"A wise person is able to learn from what others go through. The ability to do that narrows the number of mistakes you have to make personally through life," answer Ron and Linda Norris.

"Student relationships were vital to my learning time in college as I learned to work as a team, and to adapt my particular abilities and personality to the abilities and personalities of those around me," shares Barbara Brown, who works with junior age children in the Hastings Foursquare Church of Vancouver, B.C. She adds, "The give and take of discussions both in and out of the classroom broadened my initially narrow viewpoint by forcing me to look at issues from all sides. Through our friendships, we all developed the ability to listen responsively, found many opportunities for personal ministry with each other, and built friendships that will probably last through our lifetime." Barbara is a 1979 graduate of L.I.F.E. of Canada.

GIVE AN OVERALL EVALUATION OF THE INSTRUCTORS AT THE COLLEGE YOU ATTENDED.

"Without being too partisan, I would say that the faculty at L.I.F.E. was, and is perhaps the finest of any Christian college or university in America," compliments Chip Whitman, pastor of Parkrose Christian Center (Foursquare Church) in Portland, Oregon and 1976 graduate of L.I.F.E. at Los Angeles. "By and large, the faculty who trained me took a deep interest in my personal welfare, and brought with them their own Christian experience in the light of the subject matter being taught.

Kathleen Hoover, MVBC graduate of 1979, replies, "The instructors at Mount Vernon Bible College were much more than just the teachers in my classes. I've always admired them for their continuous search for truth. Their dedication and commitment to the Lord's work has developed an inspiring path for me to follow. At the same time, I've also appreciated their personal involvement in the lives of the students. With all due respect, I see them as more than instructors, they're my friends." Kathleen is Secondary Supervisor and Assistant Principal of Muir Christian Academy in Muir, Pennsylvania. She also serves as Minister of Music at the Muir Foursquare Church.

WHAT PARTICULAR CLASS WAS A HIGHLIGHT IN YOUR TRAINING?

L.I.F.E. of Canada alumnus, Barbara Brown, says, "It's difficult to choose one highlight out of four years of training, but one of the highlights was my first doctrine class. This class shattered many of my preconceived notions in the first week, and quickly taught me to think first and search the Scriptures before deciding on my beliefs."

"The class which I found to be the most rewarding was Hermeneutics. The Lord quickened so many new truths to my heart as I learned how to systematically study His Word. As a result of knowing how to personally study and interpret the Bible, God has opened additional avenues of ministry in my life, that in myself, I would never have thought possible," includes Kathleen Hoover of MVBC.

WHAT PRACTICAL TRAINING DID YOU RECEIVE AT COLLEGE?

"As for practical training, the college teams went on frequent outreaches—especially to a particular native Indian village in northern central B.C.," explains Barbara Brown. "There I had first-hand experience in songleading, sharing, and singing special numbers. During the summer months, we participated in planning and teaching in a Vacation Bible School in that same village. In college itself, weekly "Bible Gems" and Chapel times gave me practical training in leading Bible studies, songleading, and public speaking. Throughout each year, the college made known many opportunities to share in downtown Vancouver street missions."

Linda Norris shares regarding training at L.I.F.E., "We were required to take part in the life of a local body of believers. We were given responsibilities and expected to fulfill our commitments. We watched church leaders take the education we were receiving and put it into practice, seeing the local body grow and mature.

HOW DID THE PARTICULAR SETTING (LOCALE) OF THE COLLEGE CONTRIBUTE TO YOUR PREPARATION?

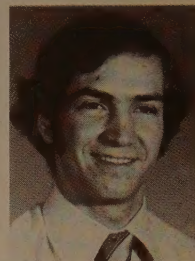

"The location of MVBC is a unique and very beautiful place," reflects Tony Naska. "The school is surrounded by open farmland and hills. The thing which I liked the most about the locale of MVBC was the convenience of getting away by myself for a long walk to pray."

"The setting of L.I.F.E. of Canada in Vancouver, B.C. made it necessary for me to leave my small hometown and re-establish myself in a large city. In many ways those first months were a lonely time, but they taught me self-reliance, flexibility, and adaptability in strange situations, and gradually taught me the fine art of making friends amongst strange brothers and sisters in Christ."

Chip Whitman answers, "Having grown up in a suburban area of Los Angeles, the locale of L.I.F.E. was very central for me. The cultural setting in the Echo Park area made me constantly aware of the needs of people from another economic and social structure, and it was challenging."

Dr. Art Wolf, Dean of L.I.F.E. Bible College of Canada Equipping the Next Generation

PEOPLE:

It was during World War II while Art Wolf was taking officers' training in the Marine Corps that he first felt a call to dedicate his life to the ministry. "At that time I became more and more aware of the spiritual needs of the world and decided to apply for entrance into chaplain's training. But due to the fact that married applicants were not being accepted at that time, the realization of my desire was not possible," states Dean Wolf. However, God was beginning a work in First Lieutenant Wolf's life that would lead him to L.I.F.E. Bible College in Los Angeles upon completion of his university training at Colorado State University where he graduated in 1946 with a Bachelor of Science degree.

Presently serving as the Dean of L.I.F.E. Bible College of Canada, when Dr. Wolf began preparing for the ministry, he did not take with him a background of religious training. Growing up on a ranch just south of Colorado Springs, Colorado, Dean Wolf had no church affiliation during this period of his life. It was while he was attending Colorado State University at Fort Collins (prior to his military duty) that he accepted Christ as his personal Savior while attending a Baptist church. Upon his conversion, Art found a new direction for his life which would eventually lead him into the training of men and women for the ministry.

Upon graduation from L.I.F.E. Bible College in 1951 with a Bachelor of Divinity degree, Dr. Wolf spent eight years serving as pastor of the Danville, Illinois Foursquare Church and received his Doctor of Theology degree from L.I.F.E. Bible College during this period.

While ministering in Danville, a call came to Dr. Wolf from Mount Vernon Bible College located in Mount Vernon, Ohio, to serve as Business Administrator and member of the teaching staff. Serving at Mount Vernon Bible College during its early years, Dr. Wolf made a great contribution to the stabilizing of its foundation during this period and was a great influence upon the lives of its students.

After serving on the staff of Mount Vernon Bible College for six years, Dr. Wolf accepted the position of Dean of L.I.F.E. Bible College of Canada in 1965 as well as the pastorate of the Hastings, B.C. Foursquare Church. Presently completing 14 years with the Bible College, Dr. Wolf served as pastor of the Hastings, B.C. Church for two years and pastor of the Burnaby Mountain, B.C. Church for seven years.

Dr. Wolf's wife, Joanne, works hand-in-hand with her husband in their ministry at L.I.F.E. of Canada. A graduate of L.I.F.E. Bible College of Los Angeles, Joanne also attended the University of Illinois in Urbana, Illinois. At Mount Vernon Bible College, Joanne shared in the teaching ministry as well as assisting in the administration office. She has shared in teaching at L.I.F.E. of Canada and has been secretary for all the administrative work of the college.

Dean Wolf finds that the greatest obstacle Satan uses in keeping men and women from answering God's call to the ministry is the attraction of position or "so called security" that is offered and available to young people in our day. But in his many years of training prospective ministers, Dr. Wolf finds this ministry a real joy as he sees men and women grow and develop during their college years. He concludes, "Probably the greatest reward is to see these young people develop into well-equipped and able ministers, serving in growing churches."

The First International Foursquare Convention in the Eighties "Congress on Destiny"

April 21-27, 1980
Angelus Temple
Los Angeles, California

What is the Foursquare destiny which the Lord Jesus has appointed this family among the nation of believers?

What are its perimeters, its roots, its directions, instructions and goals?

Are we ready to become whatever the Lord wants us to be?

Are we ready to receive what He wants to give?

Are we ready to change what He wants us to change?

What is the will of God in regard to our touching the world in Jesus' Name?

Is it possible that God, Himself, chose the Foursquare Organization and its people for a peculiar and unique ministry?

The 1980 International Foursquare Convention, "Congress on Destiny," may prove to be the most exciting and spiritually uplifting gathering in many years, reports Chairman John Holland, as the convention body focuses on where we have been, where we are now and where we are going as an organization.

SPECIAL GUEST SPEAKERS:

Dr. Paul Yonggi Cho

Pastor of Full Gospel Central Church of Seoul, Korea, which has a present membership of 75,000 people.

Dick Mills

Well-known evangelist and teacher who has ministered to over 20 denominations. Reverend Mills is intensely involved in the scriptural renewal and personal upbuilding of the body of Christ.

APPLIED MINISTRIES IN THE 80's

Workshops and sessions are being planned to better equip you to serve God in your church, as well as in your individual life. These include:

- Business Administration
- Wills and Estates
- United Foursquare Women
- Foursquare Men's Ministries
- Discipleship
- Youth
- Missions International
- Growing a Church
- Gifts of the Spirit
- Music in the 80's
- Christian Education in the 80's
- Church Institutes (L.I.F.E. Bible College)
- Christian Schools
- Cells in Church Life
- Multiple Staff in the Local Church
- Media Ministry
- Evangelism
- Preaching the Word

A new publication, which is currently being prepared for handout at the convention, will stir your heart and make you increasingly grateful that you are a part of this great Foursquare family.

"Congress On Destiny" has been planned with you in mind. You will benefit mightily by marking your calendar now and beginning preparation to attend.

Desert Chapel in Palm Springs

By Pamela Duarte

Without Borrowing A Penny

Situated in America's foremost desert resort, Palm Springs, California, is a church of believers which is dedicated to the work of the Lord. Pastored by Reverend and Mrs. Jack Morrow, Desert Chapel Foursquare Church has grown in size and ministry since its beginning in 1951.

God called Jack and Jessie Mae Morrow to pioneer a church in Palm Springs while they were seniors at L.I.F.E. Bible College. Since their graduation from Bible College, they have experienced 28 years of fruitful ministry for the Lord as Desert Chapel has realized a growth of about 400 people. Pastor Morrow comments that the growth has been slow, but very solid.

One of the many ministries of Desert Chapel includes the oldest religious broadcast in Palm Springs—a town with a population of 32,000. The church congregation, which is made up of professional people, businessmen, laborers, and retired folk, is ministered to through strong Bible teaching and praiseful worship. Reverend and Mrs. Ed Brown assist the Morrows in the ministry of the church as Ministers of Christian Education and Youth.

To house the growing congregation, construction began on a new church building in January, 1977. By choosing not to borrow a penny for the new building, Pastor Morrow states that the members of Desert Chapel "put the faith principle to the test in this building program." God has honored their faith as the new church is now completed and along with the property is worth $700,000.

"Without a mortgage to worry about," says Morrow, "we will have the opportunity of going right into planning for our next building phase."

Indeed, the members of the congregation of Desert Chapel not only manifested faith as they trusted the Lord to provide the means for their new church building, but they also manifested dedication. Pastor Morrow adds, "The people just began rallying behind the project and by doing the work ourselves, we really cut construction costs. In addition, the money for materials came mostly from contributions by members of the congregation."

For 15 months, church members donated their time on Saturdays to work on the building. Ladies provided meals for the workers each Saturday, and those unable to work, physically, donated money to purchase materials and equipment.

The completed building consists of a cylindrical hub that houses a sanctuary capable of seating approximately 600 worshipers, as well as two connected wings. One wing is used for educational activities, while the other functions as a fellowship hall and kitchen. The fan-shaped sanctuary is highlighted by pew seats upholstered in royal purple and a stained glass window at the second-story baptismal pool.

Desert Chapel was recently chosen as one of the final five Golden Palm Award nominees, which recognizes architects and developers for their contributions to better architecture within the city of Palm Springs.

Pastor Morrow shares, "We definitely felt the call of God to come to Palm Springs for this work and the best thing is not the new building,

For 28 years Mrs. Dora Beebe suffered from severe headaches. During the entire period since their inception, she continued to stand on God's promise, "I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee" (Heb. 13:5).

In 1951, Dora began awakening with headaches almost every morning. As time went by, the headaches grew worse until there were times when the pain and effects of the pressure in the back of her head would almost blind her. The pain frequently forced her to stay in bed for as many as four days. Every heartbeat seemed to explode in her head, and often the pain was so severe that she could not bear it when her husband, Edgar, would simply walk across the floors of the house.

"While at work I would begin to get very sick," shares Dora. "I would take aspirin, which would build up in my body and cause my stomach to burn. My head would pound with pain, and I would end up collapsing against a file cabinet until I could gather the strength to go home.

"I never doubted that God could and would heal me. I clung to His promise that He would never leave me nor forsake me. Pastor Harvey Ross, of the Des Moines, Iowa Foursquare Church, and others would pray for me, and the prayers would ease the pain, but the headaches would return. Yet, I knew that God would heal me," testifies Dora.

Again Dora went forward for prayer during a Sunday in August, 1978. As she responded that day, she did not have a headache but, instead, feared its return. As Pastor Ross prayed, he asked the Lord to help them to be able to sense the cause of these headaches, not just the symptoms. He was aware that there was a need to discover the root cause of her illness. The following week Dora was talking with a friend who shared that she knew of a person who had experienced similar headaches, and it was diagnosed that they were caused by low blood sugar.

Dora states, "I decided to visit my doctor and ask for the low blood sugar tests. On the last of the six tests, it was found that low blood sugar was my problem. A change in my diet resulted in complete freedom of these headaches. You can't believe the peace of mind that has come into my life. I wake up every morning with a desire to work. God's promise is true—He never left me nor forsook me. He is so good!"

This miracle . . . this answer to prayer after 28 years of suffering came as a result of a prayer ministry within the body of the Des Moines Foursquare Church. Pastor Ross remarks, "I prayed for Dora many times. She would come to the services with these severe headaches and ask for prayer. Starting in July of 1978, however, we began to see a real prayer ministry in the church. Many people committed themselves to 'around the clock' prayer, interceding for the ministry of the church. As a result, God began to minister in the lives of the body and an intercession ministry unfolded. People would come for prayer and were ministered to by the body with great things accomplished in the Name of the Lord. Just one month after this prayer ministry had begun, Dora received victory over her headaches."

Dora, 72 years of age, and her husband, Edgar, have served and supported the Evangel Chapel Foursquare Church in Des Moines for many years. They serve as a deaconess and deacon, respectively, as well as being the church custodians. Dora is also actively involved in the church United Foursquare Women's group. Whenever there is a need for a job to be done, Dora and Edgar have always been eager and willing to do whatever they could. Today they both praise God for His mercies which are new everyday!

Papua New Guinea—The 14th Annual National Convention, held September 24–28, 1979, proved to be a historical milestone with 4,000 Papua New Guinean Christians attending. It was held in the auditorium at Kapakamarigi Station which is a church seating (knees to back on a bamboo floor) 3,000 people. The speakers, who included Missionary Mason Hughes, Reverend Martin—Secretary of the Evangelical Alliance of the South Pacific, Reverend Sopera from the Summer Institute of Linguistics, and National workers, all emphasized the theme, "Jesus Christ, Lord of All" (Acts 10:36).

One night, the motion picture, "Cargo From the Silver Bird," which presents the story of the Foursquare work in Papua New Guinea, was shown, and the roof vibrated with shouts as the people recognized themselves or friends in the picture. Results of God's miracle working power, which took place at the convention, included: 40 healings; 32 saved; 67 baptized with the Holy Spirit; and 141 rededication of lives to the Lord.

God also provided a miracle regarding the weather. The Highlands had not had rain for five months. When the convention started on Monday, there was only one inch of water in the bottom of the 6,000-gallon cement water tanks. As rain water is the only source of water supply, the situation was critical. By Tuesday, the water was depleted and the people began to cry to their Heavenly Father for a miracle. Wednesday afternoon a black cloud gathered over the convention site, and soon there was a heavy downpour. Shouts of praise were heard all over the camp. In other areas, many of the tribal "medicine men" or "rainmakers" had performed their rituals attempting to get rain, but to no avail. But when the Christians cried to the God of the universe, He heard and answered their prayers. This rain provided all the water that was needed.

The last exciting day of the convention started at 4:30 a.m. as groups gathered in the church to sing and praise God. The concluding sermon was brought by Missionary Mason Hughes, with the pastors praying for one another at the close, and each one rededicating himself to the work of the Lord.

Korea—Mr. Pak knew that God was able to miraculously heal any sickness. This truth was made clear one night when his pastors, Reverend and Mrs. Oh visited him. They explained God's provision of healing which He made available on the cross. When Mr. Pak read concerning this truth in his Bible, he believed the promise of God. As the pastors prayed for him, he was wonderfully healed of stomach cancer.

A neighbor had asked Mr. Pak to pray for a woman with a goiter. The woman was not a Christian, drank a good deal, and had a bad reputation. She suffered severely with the goiter, which circled her neck like a tight collar, often causing dizziness. Mr. Pak knew that God could heal this woman, so the following Sunday he and the woman boarded a city bus (against the advice of his friends who did not think he should be seen with this woman because of her bad reputation) and arrived an hour later at the Central Foursquare Church in Seoul for the purpose of attending a service where prayer is offered for the sick. The pastors prayed for her, but the goiter remained.

A few days later, Mr. Pak and this woman's paths crossed, and he was wonderfully surprised to see that the goiter was completely gone. God caused the goiter to gradually diminish so that by the third day it had disappeared. This woman experienced both a physical and spiritual healing. Mr. Pak was so glad that his pride had not caused him to refrain from ministering to her. His healing of stomach cancer gave him faith to encourage another person to also believe God for a miracle in their body.

prayer meeting. The largest hut in the area was used and, yet, it was filled to capacity. As the service progressed, the power of God began to fill that grass-thatched building and the Holy Spirit accomplished tremendous things in each life. There were those who were freed from demon possession, others accepted Christ as their Savior, and some believers were baptized in the Holy Spirit. Many of the Christians dedicated themselves to a greater life of service to the Lord. God accomplished all this because a group of people was willing to give of itself to a night in prayer.

Missionaries Lewis and Arlene Ziegler serve as supervisors of the 66 churches and 34 meeting places in this area.

The training program held in Kuñdiawa is experiencing the blessing of the Lord as attendance has increased from week to week. The first week, 28 workers attended, and the second week about 38 people from 8 different villages, who traveled a distance of as much as 40 miles, were in attendance. Two of the young men being trained have already started a house meeting in their village, and others have begun Bible Classes. They have already realized results, with people saved and baptized in the Holy Spirit. "As a result of their new training, it is good to feel the excitement of these students as they share concerning the things God is doing through them," writes missionary Laurie Hall.

Ecuador—God is doing a great work in this land! Churches have been established in many cities, towns and other areas of this nation. One of the areas is the mountain city of Ambato. Hundreds of thousands of Indians, such as the Quechuas and other tribes, live in the Andes Mountains of Ecuador. The Foursquare church in Ambato is reaching such people. Although the Indians in the mountains are not as receptive to the Gospel as those in the lowlands, God has, nevertheless, raised up a very strong and wonderful congregation in Ambato. After purchasing a fine lot, the Ambato congregation has gradually been building a church, over a period of several years. Please pray for the completion of this church structure.

Panama—Missionary Loren Edwards writes of several exciting ministries taking place in Panama. First, the Christian Education Seminars have been held in four provinces of the Republic of Panama with about 450 people attending. These short seminars were previously held once a year, but because of their success, local Christian education committees will be organized in each province thus providing greater in depth training all-year long.

Another exciting happening was the Pastors' Retreat which was attended by 125 pastors. There was a very fine spiritual atmosphere at the retreat with the pastors very teachable. "I strongly believe that God has produced this flexibility to do some new things among us," states Missionary Edwards.

Lastly, a very successful Youth Convention was enjoyed by 800 young people who attended from different areas of the country.

Chile—The Foursquare church in the city of Valparaiso has encouraged the establishment of a second congregation in this city. Although this new congregation is only one year old, its members have already built a church building to accommodate the 100-160 people who worship there in each service. In a recent meeting attended by Missionary Sheila Ransford, a lady was brought to the service who had a terminal disease. At the close of the service, the congregation prayed for her recovery. God instantly healed her, and suddenly she began speaking in a language she did not know. The joy of the Lord filled her being and her face glowed, although she had never had teaching on the Baptism of the Holy Spirit. God not only healed her, but baptized her in the Holy Ghost. She was the first individual in this new church to experience the Baptism of the Holy Spirit, and now others are hungering to be filled.

Evangelical Teacher Training Association Celebrates 50 Years Serving Christ

On October 25, 1979, Evangelical Teacher Training Association initiated the anniversary celebration of its "50 years serving Christ through leadership training" with a luncheon in the Chicago area for member school delegates. In 50 years of ministry, over 60,000 Teacher Diplomas have been granted by the more than 200 member colleges and seminaries to graduates qualifying to teach E.T.T.A. certificate courses. These courses have been taught to over two million persons in 83 countries throughout the world.

Trained teachers hold the key to successful church ministry. The local church will successfully progress as lay teachers and leaders are adequately prepared to communicate God's truth in life-transforming ways. E.T.T.A. is committed to this task. The need for and impact of trained teachers is increasing, making the association's ministry as necessary now as it was at its inception 50 years ago.

The International Church of the Foursquare Gospel shares in the ministry of E.T.T.A. by providing the association certificate programs for training in Foursquare churches. Students receive an E.T.T.A. Award Credit Card after each course, provided the instructor is an E.T.T.A. approved teacher and the requirements for credit are met. Teacher's Certificates are granted by the International Church of the Foursquare Gospel at the completion of each certificate program. For additional information, contact:

5 Reasons Why Every Christian Should Have A Will

- A will allows you to select the executors to care for your affairs after your demise.
- A will allows you to express your wishes regarding the disposition of your estate.
- Only through a will can you care for your family and the Lord's work.
- Through your will, you may appoint guardians for infant or minor children.
- A will is good stewardship.

What a strong characteristic is courage. Jesus shewed it at a wedding, turning water into wine; at the tomb of Lazarus, calling him back from the dead; at the judgment seat of Pilate, choosing silence in the face of death. In all these, Jesus chose to take the "leap of faith" by trusting God for the impossible.

Somewhere, at various times, we are given this privilege. The privilege of going beyond our capabilities as people, no matter how talented, and facing the difficult and often impossible. And frankly, if it weren't for the times when courage was needed, we would be pretty dull people.

Courage demands total commitment. It puts us in a place we would never approach on our own. It tests us and, hopefully, finds us able and willing.

Thank you, Jesus. You've done it all before us, and now, again, You do it with us.

Headquarters Ministries:

New Editor Named To Head ADVANCE

Dr. Rolf K. McPherson, President, announces the appointment of Mrs. Paul (Pamela) Duarte to serve as the acting editor of the Foursquare World ADVANCE upon the resignation of Mrs. Margaret Gomez Rosenberger, who recently became the bride of Reverend Herman Rosenberger. Dr. McPherson states that this is considered an interim appointment while he and others are seeking God's will for the future expansion of the Foursquare World ADVANCE, and how that expansion will relate to other desired ministries of communication from the headquarters offices.

Mrs. Duarte is returning to the World ADVANCE Office from a teaching position in the Sycamore Park, Ca. Foursquare Church Preschool. In 1978 and early 1979, Pamela assisted Mrs. Rosenberger in the World ADVANCE Office, and so she returns with both background knowledge and previous formal training for her new position. Mrs. Maurice (Hallie) Tolle will continue as secretary in these offices.

Rev. Margaret Rosenberger leaves the editorship having served at headquarters on two different occasions. The first period, 1956 to 1962, as Editor of Youth Publications, and the second period as editor of the Foursquare World ADVANCE since 1975. Margaret has also served the Eastern District as Christian Education Director and three churches in similar ministry; Rochester, N.Y., Muir, Pa. and Lynwood, Ca.

While she will be greatly missed around headquarters, Margaret will be active in assisting her husband, Herman Rosenberger, who serves as the pastor of the Granada Hills, Ca. Neighborhood Foursquare Church.

Southern California Pastors Honored Upon Retirement

At a recent Southern California District ministerial gathering, the pastors of three churches on this District were honored upon their retirement from pastoral ministry, reports District Supervisor Paul E. Jones. Each pastor was presented a beautiful plaque in appreciation for a lifetime of dedicated and loyal ministry to Christ. The pastors so honored included the following:

Rev. and Mrs. Anthony DePompa, who completed several decades of pastoral ministry in the Sunland Foursquare Church; Rev. and Mrs. C.E. Hay, who resigned the Downey Avenue Foursquare Church, completing 43 years of pastoral ministry; and Rev. and Mrs. Norman Howse, who resigned the Inglewood Foursquare Church, after completing 48 years of pastoral ministry.

Deep expressions of gratitude to God and these choice servants were expressed by the leadership and pastors of the Southern California District.

50 Years of Ministry Parsons, Kansas

In 1979 the congregation of the Parsons, Kans. Foursquare Church celebrated 50 years of ministry to its community, reports Pastor Alton E. Burkes. General Supervisor M.E. Nicholls and former District Supervisor, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Beard, were present to participate in the anniversary celebration. Many who once attended the church but who have moved away to other areas, returned to celebrate with the congregation on this special occasion.

It was a memorable day for those who attended this celebration as they expressed thanks to God for His blessings.

25 Years of Ministry Grant, Nebraska

October 28, 1979, marked the celebration of this church's 25th Anniversary with two services held to commemorate this special event. Pastor Lois Sayers reports that District Supervisor and Mrs. Glenn Metzler were present for the celebration with Rev. Metzler ministering in both services. Former Grant Church pastor, Rev. Anna Wells, spoke during the Sunday School hour.

Greetings were extended by former pastors who were present. They also read letters from those who were not able to attend. Divisional Superintendent and pastor of the North Platte, Nebr. Foursquare Church, Rev. Bob Binkley, participated with special music presented by members of the Sidney, Nebr. Foursquare Church. The church history was presented by Ole Mefford, who is one of the church's oldest members, and a poem written by Irene Johnston for the occasion was read.

Supervisor Metzler presented the congregation with a lovely plaque from the International Board of Directors for its faithful ministry to its community.

Foursquare Church Pioneered in Hawaii

Pastor Jack Oliver reports that 24 people attended the opening service of the first Foursquare church—Pearl Ridge Christian Fellowship on the Hawaiian Islands. This pioneer work is located in a building across from Pearl Harbor on Oahu Island.

The church facilities are also used as a Christian Talent Center called the Dove's Nest with accommodations for a Christian bookstore also provided. Pastor Oliver states that this congregation has a vision to establish Bible studies and churches in other parts of the islands.

Arcadia, California Outreach Through Television and Radio

The Andrae Crouch song "Tell Them" provides the theme for a telecast by that name from the Arcadia, Ca. (Victory Chapel) Foursquare Church, pastored by Lloyd and Gladys Johnson.

The ministry of the Johnsons finds its motivation in the words of Jesus, "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me . . . to set at liberty them that are bruised" (Lk. 4:18). During their more than 12 years of ministry in Arcadia, this has been the Johnsons' theme and burden—to set at liberty those whom life has bruised.

In the summer of 1977, the pastors began to experiment with television. Immediately the Lord blessed their efforts and began to miraculously provide cameras and equipment as well as contact with a firm to do the editing of tapes completely free of charge.

"Tell Them" is taped in the church sanctuary, which becomes a television studio every Tuesday evening. Men from the church act as director, cameramen and soundmen, donating their time and talents. No appeal for funds is made on the programs, but instead, this congregation believes the Lord to totally provide every financial need. The format is low-key with Gospel music and a short message given by Rev. Gladys Johnson.

At present, "Tell Them" is aired in San Diego, Ca. on Wednesday evenings at 10 p.m. over Christian Communications Channel 4 and Cable 25; Channel 8, Cable in Long Beach, Ca., and over Theta Cable, Channel 3 in the Los Angeles area. Also, the Sunday Morning Services are taped and sent to South Africa in the Transvaal area of Johannesburg where Christian businessmen have purchased video machines and hold services in their homes, since Christian broadcasting is not allowed over government owned stations. Nineteen homes where meetings are held, utilize the tapes. Recently the Lord has provided an outlet for the video tapes in Sri Lanka and India.

Since May, 1975, the church has sponsored a radio broadcast over KFSG, sending 30 minutes of the Sunday Morning Service to listeners in the Los Angeles area. This outreach ministry also receives many confirmations of the Lord's blessing.

Current Events & Comments

"All we can do is pray!" That was the response of several Christian groups in Portland, Oregon, recently when contacted about possible action to protest a publicized public séance purporting to contact the "spirit" of the late Elvis Presley. Promoters billed the séance for 11:45 P.M. at the end of a concert scheduled for Memorial Coliseum which would feature expert imitators of Elvis and his singing. Ballyhooed as the "world's largest séance," the "experiment" was to be conducted by a so-called medium flown in from Florida.

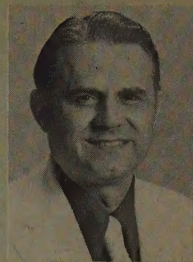

Pastor Allan Hamilton of the Portland Foursquare Church and other Christian leaders realized that an "all we can do is pray" approach likely would not stop the séance. Certainly they would pray. In fact, they booked the Georgia-Pacific Room in the same complex for a simultaneous prayer meeting the night of the concert. But they did more. They contacted the radio station sponsoring the event which was to be a charity benefit for the United Way. They pointed out the scriptural prohibitions and divine denunciations of spiritism, witchcraft, and all occult practises. They complained of the spiritual damage such an affair could wreak on many lives, and how its consequences could counteract the churches' efforts ministering to cure community ills. And loudly and clearly they proclaimed that any apparent manifestation or materialization of Elvis would be a demonic display. And they complained to the right people—the promoters of the event. Television news carried Pastor Hamilton and superimposed the Scripture texts against the occult during his interview.

Late the night before the concert the "medium" telephoned Pastor Hamilton. The next morning early she called again, making him a bit late for an Oregon State N.A.E. board meeting where he detailed the situation. "I am not a medium," the Miami psychic protested. She had been billed as such in the publicity. "I am scared to death of demons—don't want anything to do with them," she continued. She told Pastor Hamilton that she would not conduct a séance. There would be no attempt to make occult contact with Elvis. She instead, proposed to hold a memorial service.

The day after the concert, the Oregon Journal front page had headlines, "Prayers Halt Elvis Séance." While 5000 spectators less than half filled the Coliseum arena, 600 Christians filled the Georgia Pacific Room with praises and prayer. Everyone coming to the concert was handed literature outlining the Bible prohibition of the occult. And the press commented that no one seemed to mind the substitution of the memorial service for the séance.

Not every Christian resistance of civic or social evils turns out so victoriously, but Christians have clout if they will only use it with prayer. 4 building a Christian library:

The following books are recommended by Dr. Leslie R. Eno, former pastor and presently a professor at L.I.F.E. Bible College where he has served for 25 years.

Notes on the Pentateuch, C. H. Mackintosh, Loizeaux, $13.95.

These studies were written by a scholar who had a thorough grasp of the doctrines of Christ as set forth in the Epistles. Its purpose, which is to exalt Christ, is evident throughout, having a constant view of man fallen in sin. It is refreshing and reassuring to see the Gospel truths, in type and shadow, brought into full realization in Christ. These writings have proven to be of inestimable value in the development of many ministries through the years.

The Pursuit of God, A. W. Tozer, Christian Publications, $1.95.

The object of this book is to inspire believers to seek after God until they truly come to know Him and the enjoyment of a life in His blessed presence. The keynote is found in the words of the Psalmist, "As the hart panteth after the water brooks, so panteth my soul after thee, O God." The author indicates that many Christians are satisfied with simply knowing Christ as their Savior and seeking His gifts and benefits. He urges one to seek, not the gifts, but the Giver. Once He is discovered, the child of God will enjoy Him, as well as being a rich partaker of the benefits of His grace in Christ.

"Without Borrowing A Penny." Continued from page 8. but the lives we've seen changed, the young people delivered from drugs and the marriages saved. We have found that people are looking for life, and that's what we offer. This new building is not the church, but where the church meets. It is tangible evidence of the dedication of the people of Desert Chapel."

Certainly these people have heeded the voice of Moses as he spoke to the Israelites saying, "Dedicate yourselves today to the Lord... in order that He may bestow a blessing upon you today" (Ex. 32:29 NASB). 4
